Friends

I'm Laura and this is my friend Kazu from Japan. I'm 16 and he is 17. We live on the same road in Oxford. He lives in England because his father works here. His father is a computer expert – he programs computers. Kazu studies at my school. We usually sit together in class, but he's got special English lessons with a different teacher on Fridays. His English is very good. He's learning quickly. Kazu thinks that Japanese and English people have got similar temperaments in some ways. He says that we are quiet and polite, but I don't agree. Some English people are really talkative. I am! Kazu is quieter, and he's sometimes a bit shy when he meets new people. I'm usually quite confident. Our characters are different in other ways too. Kazu likes work, but I'm sometimes lazy. Physically we aren't similar. I've got dark brown hair, but his hair is black. His eyes are very dark brown, but my eyes are green. He likes my eyes because green eyes are very unusual in Japan. Kazu and I are similar in some ways. We're both usually friendly and happy, and we've got the same interests. We like sport and music. I'm mad about reggae music, but he prefers rock. He knows a lot of English songs and he sings well. I'm a terrible singer! We both love football. We watch a match every Saturday. Kazu is usually quiet, but on Saturdays he really shouts!

1. Why is Kazu in England?
